

The Ben Carter Award in Boy Scouting

There for a while, I hadn't heard of too much going on with the boy scouts who are normally very active in our neighborhood, but they are back and winning awards.

Eight Scouts from local Boy Scout Troop 1656 were recently awarded the troops prestigious Ben Carter Jr. award. The award is presented annually to scouts in the troop that have exhibited a love of scouting, demonstration of scout spirit and willingness to mentor younger scouts and adherence to scout principles, as the late Ben Carter Jr. embodied during his life. The Scouts honored are Chase Adams, Clayton Coyle, William Carnes III, Robert Garza, Taran Garza, Kyle Meserole, Zachery Obmaces and Johnny Rebler.

Photo: [Name] / [Organization]. Photo: [Name] / [Organization].

The Ben Carter Jr. award is presented annually to scouts in the troop that have exhibited a love of scouting, demonstration of scout spirit and willingness to mentor younger scouts and adherence to scout principles, as the late Ben Carter Jr. embodied during his life.

The Ben Carter Jr. award is presented annually to scouts in the troop that have exhibited a love of scouting, demonstration of scout spirit and willingness to mentor younger scouts and adherence to scout principles, as the late Ben Carter Jr. embodied during his life.

The Ben Carter Jr. award is presented annually to scouts in the troop that have exhibited a love of scouting, demonstration of scout spirit and willingness to mentor younger scouts and adherence to scout principles, as the late Ben Carter Jr. embodied during his life.

The Ben Carter Jr. award is presented annually to scouts in the troop that have exhibited a love of scouting, demonstration of scout spirit and willingness to mentor younger scouts and adherence to scout principles, as the late Ben Carter Jr. embodied during his life.